NOTE 1- The title chosen by osho for this compilation indicates towards something very important for seekers of ultimate truth -- Silent Music (meaning- HARI OM TATSAT/ The Hidden Harmony / The Sound of one hand clapping / The True Name / Ancient Music in the pines)

More than 100 Hindi & English books are titled on same single subject.

NOTE 2- In the Letter No. 30, which is titled as Silent Music; osho describes the technique of listening the mysterious sound. This letter is written to Swami Yoga Chinmaya, his secretary in those days, and also the editor of this book; who lived in next room at Woodlands, Bombay. Definitely, this is not a response to any particular letter, but osho wanted this message to go in the book, as the last letter-- climax of his teachings.

NOTE 3- The similar meditation techniques are re-emphasized in letter No. 7, titled as- सुनो- क्योंकि संदेश तो सब जगह है (Listen -- Because the message is Omnipresent)

Unfortunately most emphasized teaching of osho, became most ignored by us. Most of the sannyasins do not know, even intellectually about it.

NOTE 4- There is a mistake in preface written by Swami Narendra Bodhisattva. He starts second paragraph with following line, and the whole paragraph goes in wrong direction--

प्रस्तुत भेंट-वार्ताओं में साधक-मित्रों ने ओशो से प्रश्न पूछे हैं, वस्तुतः वे प्रश्न हम सब के प्रश्न हैं।

(The questions asked by seekers and friends to osho, which are published here in these interviews and meetings, are in fact questions belonging to all of us.)
